Tropical Hurricane Hammers Texas Coast

Heavy Loss Of Life And Big Property Damage Indicated In Meagre Report

80-Miles-Per Hour Winds Continued Howling Today

Houston, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Staggering property damage and heavy loss of life from the tropical hurricane that hammered the lower Rio Grande valley for several hours was indicated today by first meagre reports from the stricken area.

Winds of 80 miles an hour or more began to blow in the Brownsville sector about midnight last night and were reported still howling furiously this morning.

Tremendous seas piled up by the wind caused appalling property damage from Bay City, Tex., to the Rio Grande.

Grave fears were felt for a score or more persons marooned on low outlying islands along the coast.

The weather observer at Rockport said the damage there would be at least $1,000,000 to small craft and to cottages along the water front.

Still Raging Today

The storm was blowing up the Rio Grande today.

San Ignacio, about 25 miles south of Laredo, reported high winds had damaged several buildings there.

Brownsville, Harlingen and other cities in that area were without power service and water plants.

All communication was cut off to Brownsville, a city of 22,000, almost at the southern tip of the state in the rich winter garden area.

At Corpus Christi, some 200 miles north of Brownsville the government weather forecaster expressed the opinion that the center of the disturbance moved inland about 20 miles north of Brownsville at 9:30 A. M.

Corpus Christi Safe

Surging waves rolled into the lower part of Corpus Christi's business district, while most of the city's 35,000 inhabitants sought safety in strong public buildings or the residential district on a bluff.

The weather, however, showed prospects of clearing and the forecaster predicted that Corpus Christi would not suffer more unless the tide of 8 feet unexpectedly rose.

Prail buildings fell like paper before the blasts, small ships which had not been securely tied were tossed about and two of them battered at a long section of the municipal pier at Corpus Christi until it gave away.

An 80 mile wind was reported at Harlingen, 30 miles from Brownsville, before the lines went down.

Communication Razed

The nearest town to the stricken area around Brownsville that could be reached was McAllen, 60 miles to the west and north. Both telegraph and telephone communication stopped there and at Edinburg, to the south, near the Mexican border. Roads from cities north of Brownsville were impassable and private as well as government airports discouraged any plans for planes to takeoff for the danger zone.

Strong winds continued throughout the lower Rio Grande valley, accompanied by intermittent rain. Brownsville was believed to have been attacked by the southern tip of the storm and apparently the sparsely settled coast to the immediate north felt the effects from (Continued on Page 2)

Mrs. John Devine Has Emergency Operation

Mrs. John P. Devine, wife of Dixon's well known attorney and representative in the legislature, was operated upon Monday morning for appendicitis at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital and today is resting as well as can be expected. The physicians in charge anticipate a speedy recovery. The attack came on very suddenly Sunday evening and the operation was ordered for Monday morning as an emergency action. Mrs. Devine's many friends will be pleased to know that she came through the operation successfully.

Justin Dart Buys Fast Sailing Boat

C. R. Walgreen and Justin Dart left today for Buffalo where they will take command of a deep-sea sailing craft recently purchased by Mr. Dart. They will sail the boat to Chicago, which will be its home port. The craft is one of the finest of its kind afloat. It is a racer and has made several trips to Bermuda.

PICNICS BROKEN UP BY STRONG WIND AT LOWELL

Many Pleasure Seekers Fled Before Sudden Storm Monday

A sudden and severe windstorm, which swept over this section of the state late Monday afternoon, blew down some of the long distance telephone wires into Dixon, cluttered streets and country pavements with branches and made driving on the crowded highways difficult and in places dangerous.

Lowell Park, thronged with picnickers, many just about ready to enjoy their meals, was a place of utmost confusion, table clothes, paper plates, dust, hats and branches from the trees filling the air and causing a mad scramble of pleasure seekers for their cars. Considerable linen and a great deal of food was abandoned by many who were frightened by the high wind and the creaking of the swaying trees.

The entertainment features at the Elks' clam bake had just come to a close when the storm broke and therefore the program there was not interfered with.

Mrs. Peter Reiland of 9128 Exchange Ave., South Chicago, is a patient at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital, recovering from injuries she sustained in an automobile accident near Franklin Grove during Monday evening's storm, when the car in which she, her husband and her four sons were riding, slipped from the wet pavement on Route 6 and turned over on its side on the shoulder of the road. Mrs. Reiland was almost scalped by glass, broken from one of the doors, it being necessary to take 27 stitches to close the wound.

SUICIDE SCRAWL MAY FREE MAN FROM LIFE TERM

It Admits Death Of A Sailor Whose Sire Was Convicted

Charleston, S. C., Sept. 5.—(AP)—A crudely written suicide note found in a beach resort bathhouse locker with a man's garments, today raised a question of the guilt or innocence of a Georgia minister, now serving a life sentence for the murder of his sailor son.

The note, signed with the name J. E. Heath, was found when police broke open a locker which had been rented Sunday, August 27, and had remained fastened.

"Good-bye world," it said. "I am leaving you today. I have took a poison that will kill me in a short time. I have lived an un-Godly life. My friends have forsaken me. I have been a bootlegger, gambler, robber and every kind of a man he or is, as I have killed men. The last one I killed and robbed was a sailor boy near Augusta, Ga. From the papers, his name was Grady Williams. Have had no peace since. Just leave my body in the ocean for the fish to eat."

Recall Murder In 1930
In Augusta, Ga., Solicitor-General George Hains said the sailor mentioned in the note was undoubtedly Rafe Grady Williams, 19, whose body was found near here, in 1930, shortly after he left his Rochelle, Ga., home to return to his post in Maine from a furlough. His wife awaited him in Maine.

After an investigation, officers arrested the Rev. J. M. Williams, father of the youth, and charged him with the murder. The motive, they said, was to collect insurance to recoup heavy losses on the cotton market.

After one mistrial, the minister was convicted and given a life term. He denied knowledge of the slaying.

Hains was quoted as saying the suicide note "sounds funny," but he would send a representative here to make an investigation.

Wheat Growers Of County Meeting To Sign For Control

Because of the unexpectedly large number of Lee county wheat farmers desirous of taking advantage of the government's production control program, Farm Advisor C. E. The meetings for the rest of the week are:

Wednesday—St. Mary's Hall, Walnut.

Thursday—Court House, Dixon.

Friday—Co-operative Elevator, Harmon.

Saturday—Farm Bureau office, Amboy.

Mrs. Waldo Ward Called On Sunday

Mrs. Waldo Ward passed away at her home, 1911 First street, Sunday evening at 5 o'clock after a very short illness. Adelaide Ellison was born in Greenwood, N. Y., July 27, 1857, and was 75 years, one month and six days of age at the time of her passing. She had been a resident of Dixon for more than 43 years. She is survived by her husband, Waldo Ward, besides several sisters and brothers in the east. Funeral services were held at the Jones funeral home this afternoon at 2:30 in charge of officers and members of Minnie Bell Rebekah lodge, of which she was an active member for many years, and with interment in Oakwood.

A club and mosque for Moslems is planned in London. The building is estimated to cost $700,000 and will have a graceful minaret and richly decorated dome.

Mrs. L. M. Mikulas of 348 E. 108th street, Chicago, suffered injuries to her chest and abdomen and cuts about the legs Saturday afternoon when, because of the failure of the brakes on her car, it crashed into one driven by Nilo Brostrom, 2346 Diversey Ave., Chicago, on the Lincoln highway east of Dixon. She was given first aid treatment here and continued on to Polo, to which city she was enroute to visit friends. Her wrecked car was towed to a local garage.

MEASURES ARE TAKEN TO KEEP BAILEY IN CELL

Alleged Plotter Of Kidnapings Was At Large 12 Hours

Oklahoma City, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Stone walls and steel bars were reinforced today by keen eyes and ready machine guns to keep the word of Joseph B. Keenan, director of the nation's anti-gangster campaign, that Harvey Bailey, alleged plotter of desperate crimes, would never again escape jail with his life.

The steel doors of the Oklahoma county jail clanged shut behind Bailey last night scarcely a dozen hours after his startling escape from the county jail at Dallas, Tex., by means of a pistol which Bailey said he found in the mattress of his bunk.

The result of his daring break, the only successful one ever made there, was to hasten his removal to Oklahoma City to face charges of plotting the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, oil millionaire, for $200,000, one of the largest ransoms ever paid. The trial is set for Sept. 18. Bailey probably will be arraigned today or tomorrow.

Start Investigation
Meanwhile, authorities at Dallas launched an investigation of how Bailey obtained the pistol with which he gained his freedom and saws with which he escaped his solitary cell, enabling him to surprise a jailer and trusty bringing his breakfast.

Recaptured at Ardmore, four hours after forcing his way from the Dallas jail and kidnaping Turney Nick Tresp, Bailey, manacled hand and foot, was brought here by a five-car caravan of heavily armed officers.

Apprehensive of an attempt to free Bailey at Ardmore, following a tip members of his gang were awaiting him east of there. Federal officers speeded his removal to Oklahoma City, where four other alleged members of the Urschel kidnap ring, already were held.

Taken Without Fight
Sighted by Sheriff Sam Randolph of Love county at Marietta, Bailey was captured by Ardmore officers, who were advised of his approach by telephone, after a chase in which his pursuers fired three shots, none of which took effect.

Although he had a heavy caliber pistol under his left thigh, Bailey made no attempt to resist after he wrecked Tresp's car while speeding through Ardmore streets to elude the officers.

Hale Dunn, Ardmore Chief of Police, who with Bennett Wallace and Raymond Shoemaker, captured Bailey, said Bailey "was as white as paper and he sort of looked at me with a sickly grin on his face and his hands flew up in the air."

TO CAST GOLD MEDAL FOR MAN WHO HIT HOOEY

However, Recipient Of Honor Must Be Determined

New York, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The design for the medal to be given the man who took a poke at the Senator from Louisiana, Huey Long, has been completed, and its designer, George De Zayas said today it would be struck in gold this week.

To whom the medal will be given has not been determined, owing to the reluctance of the washroom foe of the Senator to admit his part in the affair.

"There are names under consideration," the artist said. "One is Al Williams, the aviator; the other is the Police Chief of Port Washington, Long Island, in whose jurisdiction the affair occurred; and a well known society man."

All have denied they laid a hand on the Senator. The Senator himself has stated that he was set upon by a gang, in which case it may be necessary to cast the medal in numbers. The festivities occurred at the Sand Point Bath Club more than a week ago.

The medal is oval shaped but straight across the top. The design is a grotesque caricature of the Senator, conceived by the artist as a man, being struck on the face by a fist that rises from a wash bowl into which water is flowing from two open faucets.

Franklin Grove Is Scene Of A Happy Homecoming Monday

A crowd estimated at more than a thousand people gathered at the Franklin Grove camp ground Monday for the first homecoming event, which is to be made an annual affair. The success of the venture far exceeded the expectations of the committee in charge and the day was ideal for the assembling of the large crowd. A parade through the business district in the forenoon, headed by the Franklin Grove band, terminated at the camp grounds where a sumptuous dinner was the next order of the day. This was followed by a band concert and fine program of events.

ILLINOIS SECOND LARGEST BUYER OF CEMENT IN JULY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—Illinois, for many months practically "off" the cement market, has again become the industry's second best customer. During June Illinois used only 347,314 barrels, a drop from the 815,496 total of June, 1932.—Chicago Tribune.

GIRL FLIER DIES IN CRASH MONDAY AT THE AIR RACE

Florence Klingesmith, Holder of Loop Record, Is Victim

Chicago, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Tragedy marked the close of the International Air Races. Florence Klingesmith, possessor of the woman's loop-the-loop airplane record, was the victim. She was killed while flying at 200 miles an hour in yesterday's Phillips $10,000 trophy race.

The airplane, owned by Arthur Knapp of Jackson, Mich., plunged to earth a half mile from the flying field after the "ship's" tail was seen to tip as it passed the grand stand. Miss Klingesmith had completed seven laps for a total distance of about 60 miles of the mile track when the mishap occurred.

"Treetops" Was 26 Years Old
The victim, a resident of Minneapolis, was 26 years old. She was a member of the National Aeronautical Association, and was known in aviation circles as "Treetops." She established her woman's loop-the-loop record in Chicago in 1931, completed 1,078 loops in four and a half hours of flying.

She was the second victim of the four-day events. The other was Roy Liggett, 22-year-old Omaha flier, killed Saturday when his plane fell during a test flight.

James R. Wedell, Louisiana, speed pilot, who established an unofficial land plane speed record of more than five miles a minute earlier in the day, was the winner of the race in which Miss Klingesmith lost her life, receiving $3,600 of the $10,000 in awards. Lee Gehlbach of Patterson, La., and Roy Minor of Los Angeles, were second and third, respectively, each taking $2,000. All other contestants—Roscoe Turner of Los Angeles, Leland S. Miles of Los Angeles and S. J. Wittman of Oshkosh, Wis., were forced out of the race.

It is expected that the board of supervisors at its regular September meeting will take action to conform to the new statute. Outland-

Bloodless Coup d'Etat By Radicals Aided By Armed Soldiers Seized Control

Provisional President Carlos Manuel de Cespedes Resigned This Afternoon Turning Power Over To Junta

By The Associated Press
The United States ordered a cruiser and three destroyers to Cuba today to protect American property against possible disturbances in connection with the new revolutionary movement which has embroiled the island.

The resignation of the government headed by President Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, in power less than a month, was expected momentarily.

Power was seized through a bloodless coup d'etat by radical elements. A commission of five was selected to take over the government from the administration which succeeded deposed President Gerardo Machado, Aug. 12.

The movement spread from Havana to Santiago, where the army rebelled, ousting the governor and the mayor.

BULLETIN
(Copyright, 1933, by The Associated Press)
Havana, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The government of Provisional President Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, which succeeded the deposed Machado regime less than a month ago, resigned this afternoon and turned the nation over to a revolutionary junta representing radical students and army non-commissioned officers.

(Copyright, 1933, by The Associated Press)
Havana, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Provisional President Carlos Manuel de Cespedes yielded to the radical opposition which has successfully effected a coup d'etat by announcing today that "now it is time for others to assume responsibility."

The President made this statement after a conference at the presidential palace, to which he had been hastily summoned from the interior after the opposition rose against him last night.

"I have faithfully fulfilled the program of the revolution of the people," he said with great agitation. "Now it is time for others to assume responsibility. Responsibility will be theirs before history."

The conference with the President was attended by leaders of the revolutionary junta, who demanded that he turn over the government to them.

Coup Was Bloodless
The government, less than one month old, prepared to resign in favor of a commission of five men selected by leaders of soldiers, sailors and national police who seized power through the bloodless coup d'etat last night.

President de Cespedes, who succeeded the deposed Gerardo Machado Aug. 12, was hurriedly summoned back to Havana from Santa Clara, where he had gone to look over the damage caused by last week's hurricane.

There was much talk of possible intervention by the United States under the Platt amendment, which is part of the Cuban constitution. It legalizes such intervention.

Army And Navy Aid
Supported by the powerful students' group and the ABC Secret Society, who demand a completely revolutionary government, radical privates, corporals, and sergeants of the army and non-commissioned officers and enlisted men of the navy seized control of the armed forces, placed machine guns at strategic Havana street corners, and detained their superior officers.

Julio Gauraud, editor of a weekly newspaper and one of the leaders of the mutiny, said the insurgents would take over all government offices in a few days and would name a provisional junta.

Mutiny Was Sudden
The mutiny was sudden and dramatic, although discontent of the lower ranks in the army, navy, and police forces over proposals to cut pay and the size of the forces has been brewing since the Aug. 11 uprising against Machado.

Sergeant Fulgencio Batista, the leader, rallied his forces, announced through two aids the rebels' demands, passively heard Secretary of War Horacio Ferrer harangue them about their duties, and then started the revolt.

They immediately deployed machine guns throughout the city and declared they had displaced all their officers.

"We will not relinquish control," the Sergeant-leader said, "until a truly revolutionary government has been established in Cuba. Then the command will be given back to the officers."

The insurrectionists seized all barracks in and around Havana, and claimed that all units stationed in the interior of the island had joined their movement.

WARSHIPS EN ROUTE
Washington, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Warships were ordered in Cuba today because of the coup d'etat there.

A cruiser and three destroyers were dispatched to protect American lives and property from danger in threatened strife precipitated by the revolt of the army against the new provisional government.

This was the second time in a matter of weeks that war vessels have been sent to the republic to the south, the first time being during the disturbances in connection with overthrow of the Machado government.

Today's step was taken promptly after Secretary Hull had been apprised of the swiftly developing situation in two long telephone calls from Ambassador Sumner Welles at Havana.

The secretary, gravely facing reporters, told them the cruiser Richmond had been ordered from the Canal Zone to Havana, that the destroyers MacFarland and Bainbridge had been ordered to the Cuban capital from Key West and Norfolk, and that the destroyer Sturdevant had been ordered from the naval base at Guantanamo to Santiago.

Roosevelt to Take Hand
Already the sharp plums were cutting the water, it was said, while President Roosevelt made his way to Washington on the Astor Yacht—returning from vacation—to take a personal hand.

Forces of Marines and blue-jackets capable of providing a respectable landing force are aboard the warcraft.

It was emphasized that intervention in Cuban affairs by this country is not desired, but that the forces being sent are expected to protect foreign life and property.

Secretary Hull said he believed the Richmond alone carried from 75 to 100 Marines.

As to any danger of bloodshed, American officials could make no predictions.

Even Ambassador Welles on the ground at Havana was unable to precisely estimate the danger with conditions changing from moment to moment.

HOW TO RECAPTURE BEAUTY

Good looks are often a matter of good health. Sparkling eyes and a smooth complexion are outward signs of an abundant vitality.

To be charming, conserve your health. Guard against constipation. It so often brings wrinkles, sallow skins, dull eyes, pimples.

Try the pleasant "cereal way" to protect yourself from constipation. Science has proved that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron, which helps build up the blood.

The "bulk" in this delicious cereal is much like that of lettuce. How much safer than abusing your system with pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Tea and Geological Exhibit Largely Attended on Sunday

About 300 people gathered at the Dixon public library Sunday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock and viewed the rare geological collections which were formally inspected by the public for the first time.

Coupled with the successful opening of the valuable exhibit was the announcement that the board of directors of the library had unanimously voted naming Mrs. Florence Plummer White, curator of the collections.

This honor was the result of her faithful and untiring efforts of the past four weeks in carefully canvassing each of the hundreds of pieces in the wide collection, renovating and preparing the various specimens in the special display cases and then arranging for the public inspection.

The number attending the event far exceeded the expectations of the board of directors of the library. The first floor formed the reception room for not only residents of Dixon and vicinity, but those from many of the surrounding towns and larger cities of the country during the afternoon. A special committee received the visitors and directed them to the second floor which is now devoted entirely to the large and valuable collection of interesting specimens.

Mrs. White was personally in charge of this floor and during the afternoon answered an endless list of questions and in her pleasing manner, explained the various exhibits many times. Mrs. White will prepare a catalog of all the different collections at the library in the near future, which will explain the origin and locale of each of the specimens. During the afternoon she was the recipient of many deserving words of praise for her efforts.

The first floor was attractively arranged for the reception room with huge bouquets placed on the tables. The ladies who assisted in the serving were: Mrs. S. S. Dodge, Mrs. J. B. ## HERE'S A PIE YOU DON'T NEED TO BAKE!

Luscious Peach Dessert Made With Lemon, Milk, Vanilla Wafers

A pie that comes from the icebox instead of the oven is the delicious peach dessert pictured here.

By NEA Service—

A delicious pie which doesn't require any baking is the very newest contribution to the art of cooking.

Now that summer is on the wane, your family is going to expect more wholesome desserts than you served during the hot months. By pooling your resources you can give them the sweets they crave and, at the same time, spare yourself much work in preparation.

There is hardly a man or child in America who doesn't love pie or dessert. You can serve it with a minimum of effort simply by letting your ice box do most of the work.

Now that peaches are in season, why not make the most of them? Here's the way to make a grand peach pie which doesn't have to be cooked:

For the pie filling, blend one and one-third cups of sweetened condensed milk (one can), with one quarter cup lemon juice, the grated rind of one lemon and one cup of sliced peaches.

Since the condensed milk contains milk and sugar which are already boiled down to perfect smoothness, it will thicken with the lemon juice almost instantly.

For the uncooked pie crust, roll enough vanilla wafers to make three-quarters of a cup of crumbs.

Cut vanilla wafers in halves and stand them around the edge of the pie plate. Cover the bottom of the plate with crumbs and fill the spaces between the layers.

Pour in the filling and cover with whipped cream which has been sweetened with two tablespoons of confectioner's sugar.

Put the whole thing in the ice box so that it will be thoroughly chilled when you are ready to use it.

Garnish the top of the pie with slices of fresh peaches just before you are ready to take it to the table.

CROOKED POLITICS AND ORGANIZED CRIME.

Some of the most interesting reading matter of the year is likely to come out of the New York grand jury hearing at which U. S. District Attorney George Z. Medalie recently elaborated his charges that there exists an intimate alliance between New York politics and New York crime.

A charge of this kind is not new, and—to people at all familiar with the ways of municipal politics, in Manhattan or elsewhere—it is not especially surprising. Yet it is an accusation over which we have never, as a people, shown any capacity to become indignant. If a detailed list of names, places and dates can be given us, we might be able to get stirred up about it.

The inability of the average big city government to suppress organized crime is one of the most shocking symptoms our society displays. Gang murders, racketeering, kidnappings, rum running, a conglomeration of lawless outbursts such as no other civilized land tolerates—these things are commonplace in our municipal affairs.

Yet we seldom have the sense to reflect on their causes. When Mr. Medalie declares that New York has these things because her gangsters are allied with her politicians, he states nothing more than a perfectly obvious truth. It is true not only in New York but in every other city where organized crime is troublesome.

A moment's reflection ought to show us that there cannot possibly be any other explanation. Inefficient our law enforcement agencies may be, but they cannot be so stupidly incompetent as to remain ignorant of the activities of gangsters whose names and deeds are known to the very school children.

Yet we continue to miss the point. We go to the polls, year after year, and vote for the same old crowd of machine politicians. We accept the spoils system without protest. We are complacent in the face of repeated revelations that most city governments grant favors to the rich and the powerful. And we cannot understand why organized crime is so well entrenched.

If Mr. Medalie, by citing chapter and verse for us, can show us precisely how such things work, he may start a wave of public sentiment that will help to eliminate the alliance between crime and politics in other places besides New York.

ABUSING "MODEL PRISONS."

Some time ago New York state spent a good deal of money on a model prison—an institution out in the open country, without walls or iron bars, very different from the ordinary penitentiary. It was hoped that it could be a place for the rehabilitation of young criminals.

Right now the state is somewhat disturbed because certain convicts who have a good deal of political influence are getting transferred to that prison from such places as Sing Sing and Dannemora. The most recent transfer is that of a former deputy county treasurer, who was sent up a couple of months ago for going such with $248,000 of county funds.

And right here you have a pretty good explanation of the widespread public hostility to "model prison" schemes. A model prison that is actually used to reform young criminals is a good thing; one that merely serves as a comfortable refuge for crooks who have a drag is something entirely different. Until that sort of thing ends, the public will continue to look on prison reform movements with suspicion.

5,000,000 FEWER HOGS.

When the French peasants were unendurably oppressed by the depression which brought on the French revolution, they started cutting the throats of their landlords. So did the farmers of Russia when the hard times of 1917 led to a revolution.

And in America today the farmers, desperately trying to get out of the pit of hard times, are also starting to cut throats. They are beginning to cut the throats—of 5,000,000 hogs, under Uncle Sam's supervision.

The parallel between these cases isn't so far-fetched as you might think. If the French and Russian governments had had the sense to try some agricultural relief scheme such as this current hog-butcher plan, they might have prevented a whole lot of trouble.

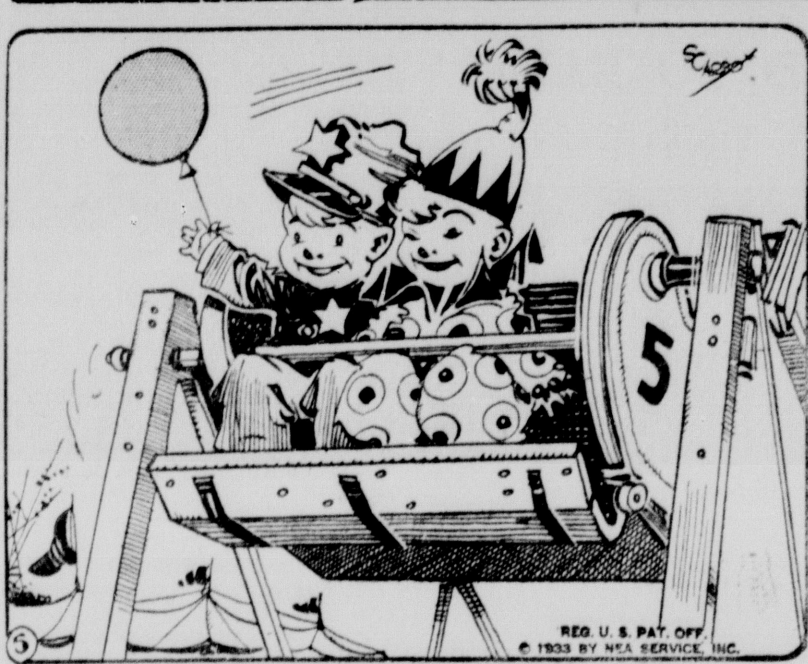

In almost every large city, racketeers and gangsters are part of the machinery of municipal control. Not until politics is divorced from municipal control will you get rid of the gangster and racketeer.—U. S. District Attorney George Z. Medalie, New York.

The elemental passions of greed and fear explain racketeering. For the terrorism of hoodlums must be substituted the terrorism of the law.—Senator Louis Murphy of Iowa.

People have the popular idea that the scientist is a hardworking but practical man. In truth nine times out of ten he is highly practical and fundamentally lazy.—Prof. J. B. S. Haldane, British scientist.

The time has come when the nations will have to learn to have mutual respect for one another's problems.—Adolf Hitler.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tynmites helped Duncy climb down from the pumpkin. "What a time I had inside that great big thing," said Duncy with a grin.

"You see, there was just room for me and it was hot as it could be. We wished to play a joke on you, and that's why I crawled in." "While all of you were walking around, I sneaked away without a sound and helped the diver clean the insides of the pumpkin out."

"The pumpkin meat was saved and now were going to have a feast, somehow. A piece of pumpkin pie will taste just fine, without a doubt."

"You bet it will," cried Scouty. "Say, I want mine now. Just laid the way. So they went to a little stand where two pies had been made."

The pies were taken from a shelf. "I guess I'll eat a piece, myself," exclaimed their friend the diver. "Eat your fill. Don't be afraid."

Soon Coppy shouted, "Gee, how good!" The Tynmites ate all they could. The diver then said, "Come with me. I'm going to have some fun."

"I know a fellow who brought a big bull to the fair. You ought to see it kick up in the air when it begins to run."

The Tynmites met the owner of the bull, and Scouty said, "I'd love to try and ride that fellow."

"Go ahead," the owner said.

"I guess that you will be all right. If you make sure to hang on tight. Try not to get excited, lad. Keep cool. Don't lose your head."

He then helped Scouty climb aboard, and all the happy Tynmites roared as Scouty bounced up in the air. The bull was running wild.

It tried to jostle Scouty loose, but shortly found 'twas of no use. The more the big bull jumped around, the more wee Scouty smiled.

(A ferris wheel provides fun for the Tynies in the next story.)

Daily Health Talk

The child that is due to return to school after the summer vacation, and particularly the one that is to enter school for the first time should be given the benefit of a good start.

This means, among other things, that it should receive a careful medical overhauling, with the correction of as many defects as possible.

Most of us grown-ups will, upon the least provocation, sing sentimentally about the good old school days. Few remember what a real task the school day represented.

To meet adequately the demand of the class room the school child must be in good health and must be equipped with sense organs as near perfect as possible. Consequently, before sending a child to school, it is the obligation of the parent to see to it that the child is in good physical form. This is an obligation due the school as well as the child and parents.

Among other things, we want to be sure that the child is well nourished, has good posture, sound teeth, an unobstructed, healthy nose and throat and has eyes that can see and ears that can hear.

The latter two items are of particular importance. For, while an undernourished child gives external evidences of its conditions and while defective teeth, diseased tonsils and the like may be readily recognized, minor but nevertheless important defects in vision and hearing cannot be discovered except by means of appropriate tests.

Failing to hear well or to see well, the child is handicapped in its learning abilities. If its sense defects go unnoticed, the child may acquire a reputation for being dull and uncooperative. A vicious circle is thus established, leading to many complications of a constitutional and behavior nature. In behavior clinics what appeared like complicated cases of emotional disturbances have many times been cleared up and eradicated by the prescription of glasses and by arrangements whereby the child's difficulty of hearing was compensated for by special attention.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 3.

The Golden Text was, "He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doeth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?" (Micah 6:8).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name" (Psalms 100:3, 4).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man, made in His likeness, possesses and reflects God's dominion over all the earth" (p. 516).

WEATHER MAN HANDS GIANTS BREAK MONDAY

Washed Out A Double
Header, Giving
Pitchers Rest

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National League drama moved into Forbes Field in Pittsburgh today as Bill Terry's Giants swung west for the last time this year with at least two of the first division trailers hanging doggedly to what little chance remains of catching the leaders.

Duplicating the stirring scene that prevailed as the Giants battered back the bid of the Braves in Boston last week, the Pirates mustered every ounce of strength for the five-game series that will tell their tale for this season.

Seven and a half games back in second place, riding a winning streak that swept them to nine victories in the last ten games, George Gibson's Buccaneers can make the grade by ridding the Giants and capitalizing on any damage that may be done to the Terrymen later by Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis.

Unfortunately for the hind chasers, the Giants' lead is made up largely of games on the losing side. With the Giants playing only 28 more games, there remains nothing else for the contenders to do but sweep away that margin in hand-to-hand conflict if it's to be done at all.

Weather Helps Giants

Rains that swept the east gave the Giants a day of rest yesterday, wiping out a double-header with the Phillies that would have added further strain to a pitching staff already weary by a multitude of doubleheaders. One of yesterday's two games is lost entirely from the schedule, as there is no probable open date on which the Giants can work in another match with the Phillies, another small boon for the New Yorkers.

"The Pirates made ready for the 'crucial' conflict by edging in one game with Cincinnati before the rain poured down. Hal Smith turned in another of the masterful pitching performances the Pirates have been getting lately, winning 1 to 0 over St. John as Pie Travers' single, a sacrifice, and a safe by the rejuvenated Tommy Thoenow scored the lone marker in the ninth.

Cubs Trounce Cards

The Cubs disposed of St. Louis' twin acts, Dizzy Dean and Tex Carleton, to win both halves of a double header, 6 to 4, and 5 to 2, and edge the idle Braves from third place by half a game. A six run blast off Dean, who set his league strike-out record of 17 against the Cubs a few weeks ago, settled the issue in the second inning of the first game as Guy Bush pitched shutout ball for seven frames.

A line drive from Pepper Martin's bat almost tore one of Bush's stanchions away in the seventh and probably weakened him in the eighth when five Cardinal singles counted for four runs before the Mississippi Mudcat recovered and squelched the uprising.

Charley Root had all the better of the second game, allowing but four hits two of them homers by Jim Collins and Carleton for the only Card scores. Gabby Hatten's homer with a man on in the sixth accounted for the winning runs.

Sex Per Usual

The only activities in the American League that escaped the holiday downpour were double headers in Detroit and Cleveland. The Tigers took two from the White Sox, 8 to 0, and 5 to 4, while Walter Johnson's courageous Indians twice beat the St. Louis Browns, 3 to 2 and 2 to 0, behind steady pitching by Oral Hildebrand and Clint Brown.

Hank Greenberg's thumping, including a home run, gave Detroit two clusters of four runs each in the first two innings of the opener, more than enough with Vic Sorrell pitching four hit ball. Fred Marberry came in in the eighth in time to save the second game for Elden Auker, after he had blanked the Sox for six innings in a duel with Ted Lyons.

Speeding Up Golf—

Golfers of El Paso, Tex., proved themselves swifter than the golfers of Columbus, O., the other day. The southerners sped a golf ball around a regulation course in 18 minutes, 5 seconds.

The best the golfers of Columbus could do was 20 minutes, 41 seconds, but in extension it may be said there were 37 golfers and a few caddies working out on the ball at El Paso, and probably the Texans were on horseback, whereas there are no horses, but only state legislators in the Ohio capital.

Come One, Come All—

No Lessons Needed!

While this seems contrary to the old spirit of golf, especially as played on Sunday, by the slow-motion foursome just ahead of you, the game has a few things in its favor. It gets the game over quickly and you do not have to take lessons from a professional.

Come to think of it, the pros advise you to play carefully and study each putt with due deliberation. The new-style golfers may be able to get the game down to the point where 18 holes can be negotiated in less time than it used to take Bobby Jones to make one putt.

Twenty minutes seems to be a long time for a round, but the game is only in its infancy. After what jocularly was known as prohibition has been repealed, consider the incentive the 19th hole will offer to advocates of speeding up the game.

Or, Then He May Dive Into Windy

Besides breaking records in their dash to the club's new bar, your tired business man, after 10 minutes of speed golf may break down a few doors was well.

It will mean a few elementary changes in golf reporting by the newspapers, of course. The journals that used to print nice, big half-tones of the "fastest human," such as Paddock Simpson, et al., now will send cameramen scurrying over the course to get action shots of what caption writers probably will label, "the goinest golfer."

DID YOU KNOW—

A German heavyweight named Walter Neusel is being groomed as "the new Schmeling." Mel Ott and Bill Terry of the Giants were merely reprimanded for laying hands on Umpire McGraw—which would have drawn a monetary rebuke in the American League. The fact that Helen Jacobs had to take whisky capsules before her championship bout with Helen Wills Moody stirs this department to demand an investigation of the doping of tennis players—after the pattern of the federal inquiry which found that many race horses were all capsuled up, too.

Nelson Cardinals Defeat Dixon D-X

The Nelson Cardinals won a slugfest from the D-X service station of Dixon Sunday by a score of 17 to 15, at the Eberly field north of Nelson. It was a good game for the spectators as there was plenty of hitting and running on both sides. E. Bolken led the Cards with a homer, a double and a single in five trips to the plate. Janssen and Knoll hit triples for the visitors. The score:

Cards, 2 3 0 0 3 3 6 0 x-17.

SCOTT-PAINE'S BOAT NOW NOT IN SAME CLASS

Gar Wood Not Forced To Extend Miss America To Win

Marine City, Mich., Sept. 5—(AP)—Latest member of that growing club of motorboat pilots who have been defeated by Gar Wood, Hubert Scott-Paine already is planning to renew his challenge for the Harmsworth trophy next year.

The first remark of the British challenger after he lost the second and final heat of 1933 race on the St. Clair river yesterday contained an assertion that he will be back in 1934 "if I can make it and bring over a boat that can give Gar Wood a better race."

A "better race" of necessity means a winning race, for he lost by only 22.33 seconds, the closest finish ever seen in the international event which annually establishes speedboat supremacy.

Wood Not Extended

Wood's time for the 35 nautical miles, in his Miss America X, was 27:48.92, an average of 86.937 statute miles an hour. He did not extend his four motors. The time of the little metal-hulled Miss Britain III was 28:11.25, an average of 85.789.

Scott-Paine had to produce some of the most sensational driving ever seen in these waters to attain that speed, exceeding 100 miles an hour at times on the straightaway. His tiny craft bobbed almost completely out of the water at times and he had difficulty on the turns.

He said he was convinced that he needed a heavier boat and more than one motor, although he still was convinced a single propeller is adequate.

Cubs Buy Leading Pitcher In Assn.; Reports In Spring

Chicago, Sept. 5—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs today announced the purchase of William Lee, right-handed pitcher, from the Columbus club of the American Association.

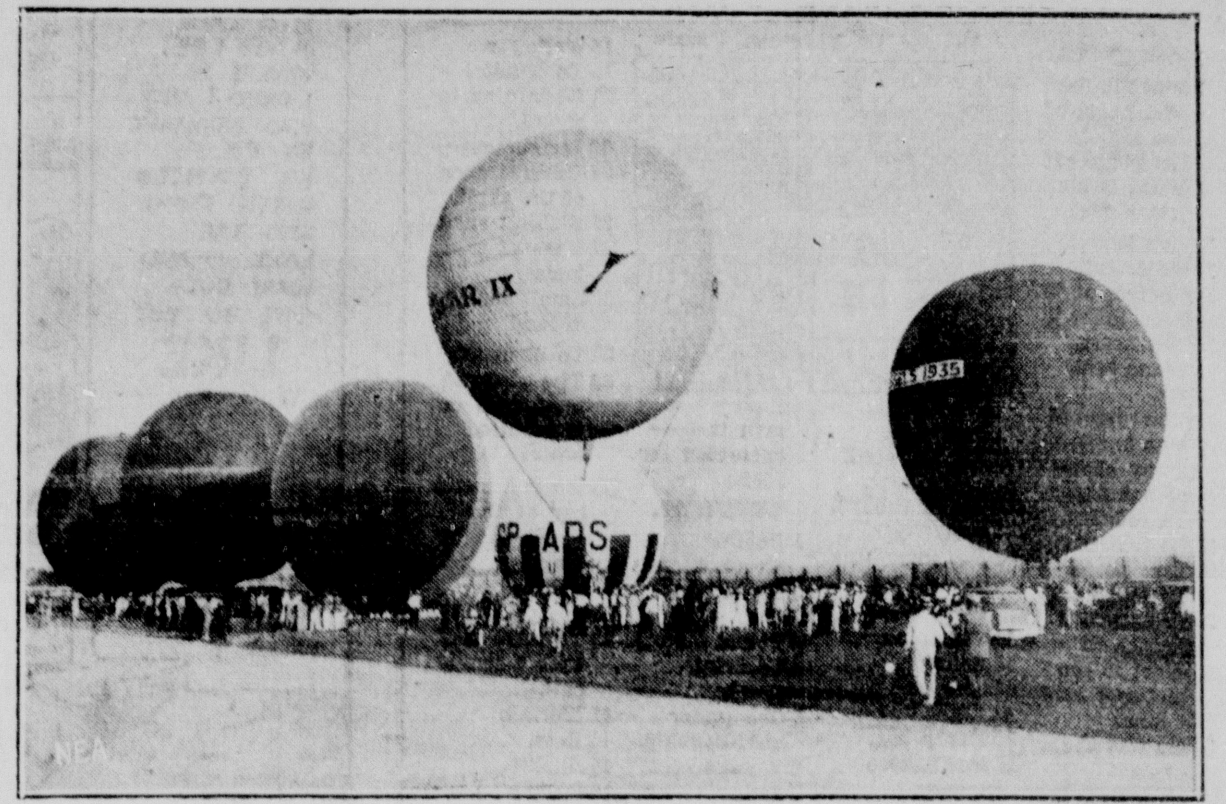

William Veck, President of the Cubs, announced Lee would report in the spring. He said the purchase involved cash and one or more players, the players to be named later.

An outstanding pitcher in the minor leagues, Lee has won 20 games and lost nine for the league leading Columbus club. He is 24 years old, six feet three inches tall, and weighs 195 pounds.

"Tiger Lily" Barksdale of Beloit, Wis., who won the light heavyweight championship of Wisconsin and Illinois title at a match with Bruce Wade of Peoria here in July, will make another appearance in the Crawford Maples arena Thursday evening of this week. The big colored champion has been matched with Arlio Soldatti of DePue in the 175 pound class, as the feature

PATIENT COURAGE

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

"Courage is the first of political virtues," said Lloyd George, as reported in the Riddell War Diary—one of the best war books so far. "What about patience?" asks Lord Riddell. "Patience is the highest form of courage!" said Lloyd George, and he was right.

Not many of us think of patience as courage at all, least of all the highest form of it. It was Thomas Hardy who said that patience is the union of moral courage and physical cowardice—a queer saying, but true in some cases. Yet Lincoln, in whom patience was constant, if not supreme, can hardly be called a coward in any sense of the word.

A friend of mine in England won the Victoria Cross, but in speaking of it he said, "Yes, but the Service Medal means more to me, because it required a more dogged courage to get it. The Vic was won in a moment, by a sudden daring dash; but it took years of hard work and long waiting to win the other. It is a case of glory and the grind."

Exactly, it is easier to screw up our nerve for a swift, fierce grapple with danger or death, than it is to stand the grind, patient through months and years. To win slowly, by hard work and long waiting, asks for a heart of oak and a nerve that does not wear thin.

Yes, patience is the highest form of valor. To stand still and to stand firm, while others win cheap victories as the reward of easy services, needs both grace and grit. To be patient is to be brave.

enough to believe in oneself, and in the cause, one serves, which for most of us is simply the cause of the good life among men.

A sure recipe for misery, fretfulness and failure is as follows: mix a maximum of desire with a minimum of patience. It never fails—it is guaranteed to defeat the best cause, or to break the stoutest heart. Jesus was right when He said, as we read it in the new version: "In your patience ye shall win your souls."

To be patient is to be wise as well as courageous, for thereby we can work cheerfully for the certain victory which is won by waiting!

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

SALESMAN SAM

TWO POINTS OF VIEW!

GOOD LUCK, SAM!

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

BEGIN HERE TODAY

EVE HAYLESS, pretty assistant manager of Bixby's department store, married DICK HAINES, a construction superintendent temporarily working in Lake City. Dick wants Eve to give up working but she refuses.

SAM HOLDRIDGE, an advertising man employed by another store, becomes infatuated with ARLENE SMITH, stenographer at Bixby's but she fancies him in love with GEORGE BLISS. Bliss has been dumped by MONA ALLEN, blond copy writer.

Handsome THERON REECE has been forcing his attentions on Eve. She and Dick attend the wedding of MARYA VLAD, fashion artist at Bixby's. Later that night Eve receives a telephone call from the Times. Copy for Bixby's advertisement is missing and Eve and Dick leave immediately for the office.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXV

WITH Dick's help Eve got the copy for the Tuesday advertisement to the Times office before the deadline, but the excitement gave her a nervous headache. Instead of being sympathetic Dick was plainly irritated by the affair, regarding it as another encroachment of office duties on his wife's leisure and home responsibilities.

Nor was he properly sympathetic next morning when Eve, feeling wretched, refused to remain at home in bed.

"Don't you see," she urged, "how especially necessary it is for me to be at my desk today in case Mr. Bixby finds out that I had to call the night watchman to let me into the office last night? It would look as though I were afraid to face the consequences of my carelessness."

Dick did not answer. He left the apartment, shutting the door behind him with unnecessary emphasis.

Arrived at the office, Eve was still unable to account for the fact that she had found the copy for the "Times" advertisement underneath the blotter on her desk the night before.

"I have it!" exclaimed Arlene after puzzling over the mystery. "Mona Allen!"

"But why should she do a thing like that?" asked Eve.

"Because you and I had time off to go to Marya's wedding and she had to stay here and work."

"Oh, I'd hate to think anyone could be like that!" Eve protested.

"Have it your own way then," declared Arlene, "but I've got that girl's number! Let's not say anything about it to her but be darned careful what we let her get away with in the future. She's out-guessing us all the time!"

ARLENE returned to her typewriter when Mona Allen entered and there was no sound except the rapid clicking of keys until Mona left on an errand to some other department. Then Arlene looked at Eve.

"Do you suppose," she asked, "that anyone with Mona Allen's disposition would be likely to go in for fashion art? I was wondering what sort of person we will draw in Marya's place."

Eve was reading letters of application from artists who wished with the class of 1933, will enter nurses training at Galesburg next week.

Miss Bertha Sanford leaves for Rice Lake, Wis., early this week where she will enter her second year as a teacher.

L. V. Slothower, agriculture instructor, has been busy the past week getting the exhibits of the local team entering the Vocational Agriculture Fair at Oregon. Ashton teams have always made a fine showing and it is expected that this year will add to their laurels.

Mrs. George Hann, who leaves soon to make an extended visit with relatives at New York, was guest of honor at a surprise party given by members of her Sunday school class. The gathering was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Amelia Helteness of Rochelle, and the afternoon was one which will be long remembered by all who to be considered for the place. "I didn't dream there were so many 'foot-loose and fancy-free,'" she commented.

She selected a dozen letters and telephoned for those artists to come for an interview with Mr. Barnes. That afternoon they began arriving, laden with samples of their work. It took Barnes but a short time to decide each was unsatisfactory. Eve rounded up another half dozen the next day, but none suited Barnes.

By Thursday his temper was crisp and Eve's nerves were on edge. Twice he snapped at her in answer to questions.

"Why do I suffer such indignities?" she asked herself as she returned to her desk with lowered eyes. It isn't necessary for me to stay here and let Barnes work off his sarcasm on me."

The advertising manager's irritation had transferred itself to Eve and that night, because she was tired, she gave vent to her discontent before Dick. As she took off her French heeled slippers to put on a pair of mules she flung one slipper across the room. It was unintentional but the slipper knocked over a delicate amethyst glass perfume bottle, spilling its contents of the rug.

Dick made no comment. He wiped up the perfume and picked up the broken bits of glass as Eve burst into hysterical tears. He asked, "What's the matter with you, Eve?"

"I'm just tired," she sobbed. "Tired to death!"

"Um-m! I was afraid you'd get this way. Well—we'll see that this doesn't happen again."

What did he mean, Eve asked herself wildly. She was not going to give up her career just because Earl Barnes had worked himself into a frenzy over a disruption of the office routine.

THE next morning Eve left for work with a heavy heart. The jostling of other passengers on the trolley irritated her and she used both elbows to keep from being crowded too closely. At the 55th street intersection a score or more left the car and Eve sank with relief into a vacant seat. Immediately she raised the window to let in the spring morning air and just as quickly someone behind asked her to close it because of the draft.
